40 years of the Lyminge Association and we have a lot of ideas on holding celebrations. We are looking for volunteers, clubs, societies and business' to join in and make this year special. We are hoping to hold a weekend of events on 4th and 5th of September so if you are interested in taking part please contact the Editor or any member of the committee. For those of you who do not remember the Millenium celebrations it would be lovely if we could take some of the events we held then forward. It was a brilliant effort by the whole village. Notices and Reports

Lyme Disease Awareness

There are two known cases of Lyme disease in the Parish and people should be aware how this disease is transmitted and the way it affects people. Lyme disease is caused a bacterium named Borrelia burgdorferi and is transmitted most commonly by ticks.

If you are bitten by a tick it is important you examine the bite carefully and go straight to your doctor Ticks are common in the countryside and gardens. They have a complex life cycle involving short periods feeding on a variety of mammals (including humans) and resting on the ground. They can take three years to fully develop and in that time may only feed three times. Because hosts may not be easily found they can survive long periods without feeding - adults can go 21 months without a meal!

Early symptoms of Lyme disease can occur within a week and include tiredness, shivering, fever and muscle/joint ache. A red circle will appear around the tick bite which often grows bigger with a pale area in the middle. In the early stages the bacterium can be controlled with antibiotics but in later stages serious permanent complications can arise.

In gardens keeping vegetation short and regularly tended will disturb and discourage ticks from remaining there. When out for country walks shoes and trousers are preferable to shorts and sandals and examine pets regularly for the presence of ticks. Removing tick from hosts is also a delicate matter if infection is to be avoided.

pushing up daisies – New Year update:

Since setting up shop last September (with a few weeks off over Christmas and during the icy weather in the New Year), we have managed to raise over £4,400. We have already informed the Parish Church that we will be presenting them with a cheque for £1,402 towards the churchyard mowing contract and after paying rent, insurance and running costs etc, which account for another £2,000 or so, we are now in a position to accept applications for small grants towards conservation and/or environmental projects within the parish of Lyminge.

We are also keen that other people with a passion for local conservation and the environment will join our group so if you have any particular interest in this 'green' field and would like to play an active role, then please ring Mike on 862073.

Many thanks to those of you who have supported us since we started and especially to our stalwart volunteers who have given up their time to make the shop a success whatever the weather!

Pushing up daisies is committed to raising funds for community conservation and environmental projects throughout the parish of Lyminge.

Rhodes Minnis Evening Circle

On the 17th February Ann Finney gave us a talk on the music and life of Mario Lanza. Born in 1921 Mario began his musical career at the Philadelphia Academy of Music. He married in 1945 and MGM gave him a contract in 1947. He performed at two Royal Variety performances and after some touring suffered financial and health problems. Mario died of a heart attack age 38 and his wife sadly died the year after leaving 4 children. Mario's legacy was to form a musical foundation for young people. Ann's talk was accompanied by some of the wonderful music of Mario Lanza played by her husband Stan. They have now raised £4,000 for the Pilgrims Hospices. The competition was won by Marion Hoare with Pat Kent 2nd, Daphne Andrews 3rd and Marie Hambrook 4th. Our next meeting is on the 17th March when Derek Boughton will talk on "Swing Riots". We meet at Rhodes Minnis Village Hall at 7.30pm and everyone is welcome. Marion Hoare 01303 862913.

Lyminge Heritage Questions and Answers

Recently, Hannah, my seven year old, came home from school and whilst she was playing a game she suddenly crossed her fingers and shouted "Cross keys." She meant this as 'truce words' so that she could have a break from playing whatever game it was. I was surprised because this was the same term I used in the school playground forty years ago. I haven't taught her this term; like me, she learnt it from her peers in the playground. This has made me wonder about the playground games played locally. Here, then, is a new question; Q22 Do you remember any particular school playground games (including songs, truce terms etc.)? I have written to Mrs Steel, the Headmistress at Lyminge CE Primary School and she has kindly agreed, with the help of her staff, to ask the children about current playground games. It will be interesting to see if any of your memories correspond with contemporary playground games.

Veronica Hopker has contacted me about various local heritage matters and this month I am going to relate some of her memories of the first Lyminge Day, in 1971, which at that time was organised by the newly formed Lyminge Association and was held on Tayne Field (Q/A12). "The official handing over of the deeds of Tayne Field [to Lyminge Parish Council] coincided with the first Lyminge Day. It was arranged that Councillor Fitzgerald-Moore, Lord Mayor of Westminster would hand them over to the village just before the official opening of Lyminge Day. I seem to remember it was a chilly day because of the wind blowing across the field but it was well supported. In the evening the barbecue was held in one of the large marquees - fortunately because it was a cold evening. All the committee [Veronica was a member] dressed up in Elizabethan dress (I believe this was connected with the fact that the last time the deeds were handed over to the then Vicar of Lyminge it was the [first] Elizabethan era ...)."

Veronica also sent me a copy of the programme for the first Lyminge Day. I thought I might tell you about a piece in this programme that might explain why Loughborough Lane is so called (Q/A1). The programme has a few local 'points of interest'. One is about the Manor of Lyminge and concludes by stating that Lord Loughborough conveyed it to Rev. Ralph Price in 1784. I have found that Hasted in The History and Topographical Survey of the County of Kent (1799) wrote "... Alexander Wedderburne, esq. Solicitor-General, since created Lord Loughborough, and made Lord Chancellor, and he in the year 1784 conveyed [i.e. transferred ownership of] this manor [Lyminge], with the advowson [i.e. the right to nominate a person to hold clerical office] of the church of Liminge [sic], and its appurtenances [i.e. all that belonged with it], to Ralph Price, clerk, rector and vicar of this church" Did Loughborough Lane become so named because this eminent man was the Lord of the Manor of Lyminge?

That's all for now. Have you any questions or answers about the local heritage? If so then please contact me.

There's only a few days remaining to get your completed application form in to us in order to compete in the event we are staging to showcase local talent!

Talented individuals or groups of 16 years and over are invited to enter our talent contest, auditions for which will be held on the weekend of the 20th and 21st March at Lyminge Village Hall. Successful acts will go forward to the final on Saturday 27th March, also at the Village Hall and the winning act will receive £250. There will be a panel of judges for the auditions, who will take feedback from the audiences to help them decide which acts should go to the final, but the winner will be decided by the audience at the final on the 27th.

Entry is free and you can obtain entry forms by emailing Valleytalent@hotmail.co.uk or they can be collected from either the Lyminge Post Office or Laing Bennett Estate Agents in the village. Applicants must be available for all three dates and they will be allocated a time and date for their audition nearer the time. Please note that we will provide a CD player and speakers for performers if required.

Completed forms should be emailed back to the above email address or personally dropped into Laing Bennett in the village. Closing date for the receipt of completed forms is Saturday 6th March. Unreserved tickets for the three audiences will go on sale on Saturday 6th March at Laing Bennett's priced at £5-00 adults and £2-00 children and tickets will also be available on the door.

Please note that acts which include animals will not be accepted and Lyminge Dramatic Society reserve the right to refuse applications. Also, in the event of an insufficient number of acts applying, we reserve the right to cancel the event, in which case, all ticket money would be refunded.

Come along and enjoy a fun event and support your local acts !

LYMINGE HANDBELLS

The Lyminge Handbell ringers are now accepting bookings for spring and summer events so if you have a special occasion where the sound of traditional hand bells will add to your celebration, why not consider handbells? We have a large selection of popular and classical music, all we need is a large table, room for up to 10 players and a donation of at least £40 for our charity, the Pilgrims Hospice. A contribution to travelling costs is asked for if bookings are at locations more than 5 miles from Lyminge. Weekends and evenings only please and plenty of advance notice. Want more info or make a booking? Just call Ro Edmond on 863201.

Letter to the Editor

Thoroughly Charcoal?

From: Liz Coleman,
Sunny Cottage, Canterbury
Road, Lyminge.
Email liz.coleman@virgin.net

At about 1.00pm on Wednesday 27 January I received a distressed call from my daughter to tell me that Thoroughly Wood was on fire. Again. (It burned to the ground on Monday 28th June 1999 and there have been a few fires since.) Our house is so close to the premises that the shock of this news was incredible. Within minutes I was home from Canterbury – and then spent the next hours watching in horror while the building burned. The Fire Brigade was brilliant and the masses of equipment they brought to the scene had to be seen to be believed, so we are deeply grateful to them that this time our building suffered next to no damage. Nevertheless, there was a feeling that we were very, very lucky.

But the nightmare didn't finish once we got back into our house at 7.30pm that evening. Like most people in the immediate vicinity, we got next to no sleep that evening owing to the noise – and the anxiety. It wasn't much better the following night. Yet, we still had to get to work. We were inconvenienced in very many ways. The fire was only finally put out on the Saturday afternoon. During that afternoon we cleared several barrow-loads of broken tiles from our back yard (and then wondered why we felt stiff the following morning!). The inconvenience, noise and mess will continue once the necessary decisions have been taken and the building is demolished.

However, what really irritates is that no one from the firm has been round to apologise, to offer help in the clear-up, or to ask if we are all right. I know this fact is keenly felt by neighbours. Considering how accommodating we were about the rebuild last time (acknowledging that it is a good thing to have employment in the village and so on – and let's face it, it was a good-looking building albeit very out of scale for its surroundings), this is a very sore point.

A few days after the fire we contacted our local Shepway Councillors to gain their views and support; namely Susan Carey (Chairman of Shepway DC), David Monk and Jennifer Hollingsbee. Only Susan Carey replied (and that in her role as a Kent County Councillor - and giving a very patronising response). I think this says a great deal.

I have no idea as to what is planned for the site now – and I know that many rumours are rife. I believe that planning permission to convert the building into domestic dwellings was actually turned down relatively recently. What I do firmly think is that a rebuild of industrial premises cannot be permitted. Personally, I am never of an opinion that petitions are very successful, but if you have opinions about what has happened and the future for this site in North Lyminge (which is a particularly attractive part of the village), then I would be happy to collate all the views so that we can forward them in an appropriate fashion to the planners.

Mary Bennett and family would like to thank the many people who have expressed their condolences on the death of Leonard who made a peaceful exit on 16th February

I would like to thank the Lyminge Coffee Shop for opening every day during the bad weather to provide a hot meal and to Joy Elliot for all her help.
Joan Tugwell, 19 Greenbanks and Caroline (with a diabetic dog)

Lyminge Village Hall

At the heart of our busy community the Village Hall offers an excellent venue for up to 200 people and can meet a variety of requirements with its small Committee Room, larger Club Room and the Main Hall with servery and large stage. We have invested heavily during 2008 with a storage extension completed plus new Ladies toilets. With the full stage now available concerts and bands can be accepted. With excellent parking, kitchen facilities and plenty of tables and chairs the Village Hall makes a great place for larger celebrations or charity events. Price example: Friday or Saturday evening £50.00
