OUTDOOR THEATRE THIS SUMMER

Those of you who are fans of The Rude Mechanical Theatre Co will be pleased to hear that they will be returning to Lyminge this summer. It will be a brand new play called 'Macbyrd', and is a comedy thriller - and sixteen of the characters are birds! Don't miss Inspector Seed, a pigeon, as the detective!

It is set in 1940 and is about the changes to a small village in rural Sussex brought about by the threat of invasion and its impact on relationships. Pete Talbot, the writer and director, says, "There are, it has to be admitted, a few echoes of a certain Shakespeare play. Macbyrd is told by the 'gypsy magpies' that his time has come, that 'sleek birds, black against the sky' will rule. In fact change to the village is because a momentous event is going to happen - and I'm not going to tell you what!" The comedy is partly in the absurdity of the birds' world, but also in the ways of 'country folk'. So there's a bit of Foyle's War about it and a bit of 'The Archers' - plus quite a bit of The Rudes, too.

Sunday 31st July - Tayne Field - 7.30pm.

Tickets available from Laing Bennett, or Mike Chisnall (01303-862723). Adults £15, Seniors £14, Students £12, Children £8, Families £38. Special large group rate (10 or more people come together for £13 each) contact the Central Box Office on 01323-501260 or therudes@btinternet.com

District Councillors Report - July 2016

Starting with the local news first, it was very heartening to see so many young people turn up on 26 May for the Lyminge Annual Meeting. The young people were all with the 1st Lyminge Guides and not only did they present a report but they stayed to ask questions and impressed everyone present. One of the many good things the Guides have been doing is planting and tending one of the large planters that brighten the village.

Susan gave our report at the Lyminge Annual Meeting (and a separate report on her work as our County Councillor). Both of us very much appreciate the work of the parish council (and the excellent parish clerk) and there are several projects we hope to progress with the parish council in the year ahead including the renewal of the village gateway at the Etchinghill end of the village.

Our biggest news at Shepway continues to be Otterpool Park, the area between Lymington and Sellindge which could become a garden town. An important milestone was passed on 08 June when the Shepway cabinet agreed to make an 'expression of interest' to the Government. By the time this newsletter is printed we expect the proposal to have passed through the council's scrutiny process and be with the Government for response. We are seeking Government support for infrastructure such as a new sewage plant, new roads, schools and medical facilities as well as help in dealing with the utility companies, Network Rail and other Government departments so that as Otterpool Park grows over the next 30 – 40 years everything is in place from the start. With so many people living to great old age (not just the Queen) the houses that would have been released for younger generations are no longer available. At the other end of the age range we have seen a 25% increase in Kent's birthrate since 2002. These young people will all need homes and jobs and Otterpool Park will help us meet this need. There's information and maps available on www.shepway.gov.uk/otterpool-park and if you still have unanswered questions or want to comment then email otterpool@shepway.gov.uk

Finally we'd like to publicise a consultation we're holding. You may be aware that those on low incomes are helped with council tax benefit which reduces their council tax bill. In 2013 the responsibility for this was passed from the Department for Work and Pensions to local government and some transitional funding made available. This funding has now ceased and Shepway District Council is consulting about what level of help should be given to council tax payers of working age who are on low incomes. (Council tax benefit arrangements for those of pensionable age are unaffected and will continue as before). If you would like to see the proposals and give us your views you have until 28 August and you'll find the consultation on www.shepway.gov.uk/council-tax/reduction-scheme/consultation

INSPIRING WOMEN

Members were welcomed to the June meeting by the President, Barbara Syrett. June Price read items of interest from the East Kent News and it was reported that last month members had enjoyed lunch at Etchinghill Golf Club.

Ian Porter, our speaker for the afternoon, spoke about "Titanic - what happened after the ship sank!!" He told of the disastrous events that happened when the ship was sinking when men and women first class passages were rescued and helped into lifeboats first and the poorer people had to fight for themselves. It was a very sad but most interesting talk of a terrible tragedy.

The competition winner for a nautical item was Rosemary Piddock. Tea was then served by the hostesses, Pat Kent and Rosemary Piddock.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday, July 19 at 2.30pm in the village hall when David Harper will speak about "The silk road from Xian to Bishkek". Please call Barbara Syrett on 01303 265229 or Rita Warner on 863503 for any information.

Letter to The Editor

Last week I was driving down the hill past Beachborough House towards the A 20 when suddenly my engine started to cut out. I managed only to get as far as the dangerous double bend just before the A 20. It was then I realised I had failed to heed my wife's constant warnings, and that I had not brought my phone and that the car's 'warning triangle' was still in the garage. What else could I do but wait, hope and pray that the police would come by. I waited and hoped and prayed – but the only thing happening was that a large number of cars and lorries were braking hard behind me, drivers were cursing me and everything else was whizzing by.

After well over 20 minutes, a car drew up and stopped. A lady and her son asked if I needed help, were willing to take me to where I could phone and also insisted on taking me back to my house in Rhodes Minnis, if necessary. In the event they let me use their mobile phone and returned me to my car where the AA, who were amazingly prompt, were waiting and a police car was just arriving. The car was fixed in minutes – a fuel line had become detached.

In my confusion with all this help going on, I failed to write down the lady and her son's name, their address or even their car number plate. I know they live in Etchinghill. So this is my only way of thanking them for their considerable kindness and generosity. We seem to be living in an age when socially, politically and economically, many people are only interested in those three personal pronouns – 'me, my and mine'. Life has become a question of assessing what one can get out of it rather than what one can put into it. Therefore I cannot say just how wonderful it was to be helped (I am getting to an age, it seems, when one begins to need it) by such charming and courteous people. Thank you so very much.

Etchinghill Meets the Queen to help celebrate Her Majesty's 90th Birthday

Around 65 residents and guests enjoyed a Tea Party, in celebration of the Queen's 90th birthday, which was held at the Etchinghill village hall on Sunday 12th June.

A raffle was held with prizes comprising meal vouchers, kindly donated by the Gatekeeper Inn, and a picnic hamper which contained champagne, caviar and other luxury goodies. Quizzes and children's games helped make the day fun, unlike the weather which was gloomy to say the least, and prizes were awarded to the children who designed and made their own crowns.

Local resident, Jean Howard, baked a splendid Royal birthday cake which was enjoyed by all; the Mother and Toddler group made a superb banner and local children helped with the design and making of the Queen's throne.

The ERA would like to thank everyone who attended with a special thank you to the many volunteers who helped make the day a success.

'Lyminge a history' – reviews Parts 1 and 2

In the coming months we will publish an independent review, written by Nigel Thomas of Elham, of the volumes of 'Lyminge a history' – a social history of Lyminge Parish published by the Lyminge Historical Society. Many of you will already own some or all, of the volumes. For others of you these reviews offer an insight into the volumes and hopefully will encourage you to own the series. At the same time if you have a local story to tell please contact John Carr on 01303 862972 to discuss the possibility of having it published in a future volume.

EARLY VOLUMES

Lyminge deserves and needs to be much more widely appreciated. Now its essential quality and its important place at the centre of British History are made accessible in a series of books published by the Lyminge Historical Society. Each book brilliantly illuminates the varied aspects of village life and institutions but there is space here only for a sample of the delights contained.

Part One, for instance, contains a lively verbatim discussion of Lyminge and its shops and businesses in the 1930s and 1940s, complete with nostalgic photographs. This is followed by a geological account of the importance of landscape in the early development of the village. After that, there is a superbly illustrated anthology of historical perspectives of Lyminge. Arthur Mee tersely comments: "In this village, with such rare treasure, it is only the old that is good." This series of books very firmly rebuts the comment.

Part Two presents the plants and topography around Lyminge. The volume also takes us to the heart of Lyminge's right to be considered as a centre of Anglo Saxon/Jutish influence in Britain with a brilliantly documented account of the excavation of a Jutish Cemetery in 1953 and a superb taster for the, as yet, undiscovered archaeological delights to come. A further unit of this volume emerges from detailed studies of several sets of documents. The first presents the life of Albert Tanton, lamplighter, clock mender and bell ringer. If born at a later time, Albert might well have gone to university but instead lived a full bachelor life entirely in Lyminge. Through this, we became aware that history is as much a study of ordinary people as it is of the famous.

Still to come are the reviews of volumes 3 & 5 – these cover Lyminge during the two world wars. Volumes 4 & 6 present an assortment of articles about the Parish and the surrounding area, whilst volume 7 delves further back in time with a brief coverage of the archaeology, old maps and miscellaneous tales of yesteryear and memories from childhood.

All the volumes are available for sale through Lyminge Food & Wine Stores, the Post Office Store and direct from the Society when a discounted deal is available if your buy all seven volumes.

▲ Rhodes Minnis Circle, celebrated the Queen's Birthday on 15th June with a tea party for members and friends in Rhodes Minnis Village Hall.

▲ A very tempting table set for some Royal Birthday celebrations at a recent Talk Time in Lyminge Library.

Part of the audience at The Annual Parish Meeting held at Lyminge Village Hall on 26th May. Susan Carey, centre front, also gave an update from Shepway District Council and the County Council. Inset: Chairman of Lyminge Parish Council, Richard Chubb, speaking at the Annual Parish Meeting.

LOST

A recent visitor to Lyminge lost a silver coloured necklace with a silver tassel on the end. It has sentimental value. If you can help please call 01303 862699. It would be lovely to let her know it has been found.

▲ Lace making at The Elham Valley Line Trust's Hands On Craft Day on Sunday 26th June.

➡ This visitor spent quite some time having Hands On at carving an owl
